

All Hallows by the Tower & Clio's Company present

BAITED HOOKS:

Risk in Henry VIII's London:

... don't think you can get away with doing nothing ...

The government's gone mad ... legal goalposts are changed without notice ... there are scandalous events in Royal circles, but it's illegal to discuss them ... church services are changing every week, but you still have to attend ... some people are talking about regime change, but do you really want to be ruled from a chaotic Europe? ... there is a climate of fear ... the consequences of blowing the whistle can be terrifying.

What will you do? Come and join us and decide

This piece of site specific theatre is set within All Hallows by the Tower – everything that takes place could have happened during the Lent of 1533.

THURSDAY 22 MARCH, 7pm

Tickets £16, including Tudor buffet food

Places are limited so tickets must be purchased in advance from:

Baited Hooks Bookings
All Hallows by the Tower
Byward Street,
London EC3N 4DJ

Please make cheques payable to
"All Hallows by the Tower" or buy online at www.etickets...

All proceeds will go towards the
All Hallows and Clio's Company Arts in Education Project and the All
Hallows relighting project.

